Get Changed Annual Review 2011

Get Changed, based in Okehampton, works with adults with learning disabilities and mental health problems through a programme of education and performing arts. Get Changed participants create, develop and perform inspirational theatre across a broad range of disability issues.

 Our work, led by our participants, addresses topical disability issues in an accessible and inspirational way. It is designed to develop confidence, promote social inclusion and empower people with learning disabilities to realise their full potential.

 The participants use performing arts techniques to learn through shared ideas and experiences – working towards a true understanding of the place and value of each individual regardless of their ability.

Get Changed Mission and Vision

 Our mission is to raise the profile of the disability community and change public attitudes towards those with disabilities by creating and performing high quality arts projects.

 Our vision is to increase awareness of the problems faced by people with learning disabilities and leave something striking and of lasting value within the community.

Get Changed Annual Review 2011

Activities and Achievements – for more information visit www.getchanged.com

🦋 Adults with learning disabilities and mental health issues participated in a programme of 45 inspiring theatre and education workshops to build life skills, confidence and self esteem and help develop their full potential.

🦋 In December 2010 Get Changed was proud to celebrate it's 15th Anniversary with a gathering of participants, staff, volunteers and committee members at the Conservative Club in Okehampton.

🦋 In February 2011 sensational performances of Get Changed's own interpretation of "Flash Gordon" were performed to sell out audiences at the Octagon Theatre, Okehampton.

🦋 During the year Get Changed launched a new blogging web site www.getchanged.com thanks to many hours of design and construction donated by Jonathan Sleeman and Ian Oliver.

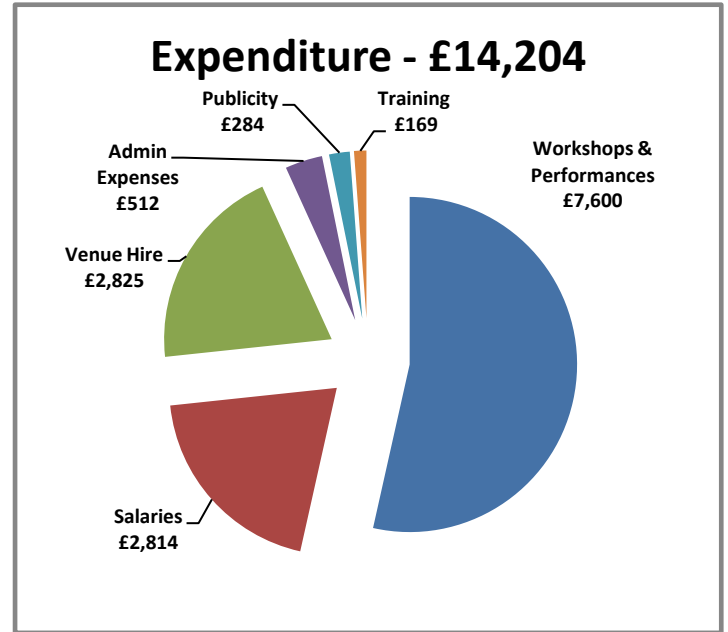

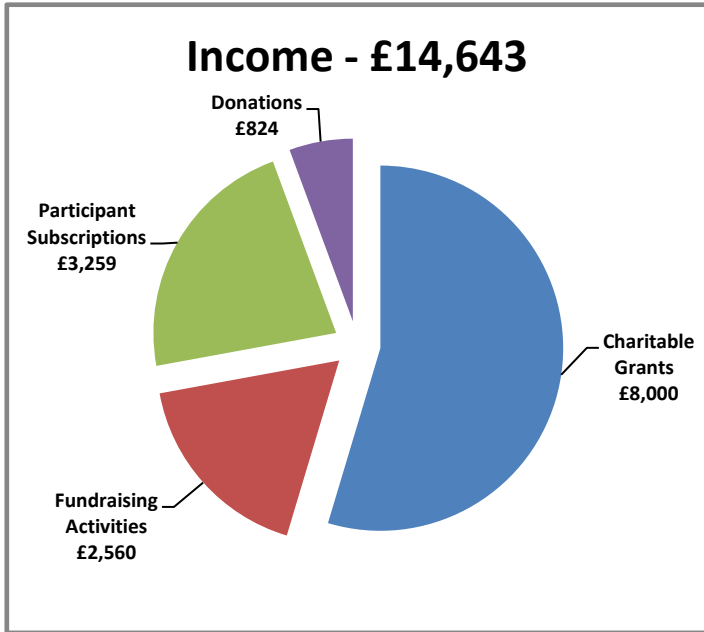

🦋 Get Changed also started a new two-year project entitled "Respect" designed to explore the principles of rights, independence, choice and inclusion for all.
